Recognition honors companies demonstrating business integrity through best-in-class ethics, compliance, and governance practices

Paris, March 13, 2023 – Capgemini has been recognized by Ethisphere, a global leader in defining and advancing the standards of ethical business practices, as one of the 2023 World’s Most Ethical Companies.

In 2023, 135 honorees were recognized spanning 19 countries and 46 industries. This is Capgemini’s 11th recognition in a row highlighting, once again, the Group’s strong ethical culture rooted in its core values and reflected in its Code of Business Ethics.

“As a trusted business partner to our clients and with 360,000 team members operating in over 50 countries, we aim to be an ethical leader and role model,” comments Jerome Simeon, Group Head of Ethics and Global Industries, Group Executive Board Member at Capgemini. “This World’s Most Ethical Company recognition, for the 11th year in a row, honors our team’s collective efforts to live our values by making ethical business choices every day – each one contributing to our ethical culture, helping to create the future we all want.”

“Ethics matters. Organizations that commit to business integrity through robust programs and practices not only elevate standards and expectations for all, but also have better long-term performance,” said Ethisphere CEO, Erica Salmon Byrne. “We continue to be inspired by the World’s Most Ethical Companies honorees and their dedication to making real impact for their stakeholders and displaying exemplary values-based leadership. Congratulations to Capgemini for earning a place, once again for the 11th year running, in the World’s Most Ethical Companies community.”
